PRESIDENT HARDING DRAFTS PEACE PROGRAM

BARs ARE RAISED BY STATE'S DEMOCRACY
AND ALL WHO VOTE
MUST BE OF FAITH

Any Persons, Challenged In Primary, Must Make An Affidavit

COMMITTEE MEETS AT ALABAMA CAPITAL

Long Session Ends With Plans
Complete For Choosing
Candidates

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily.)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., July 29.—

Any person whose democracy is doubtful may be challenged when he or she seeks to vote in the democratic primary August 8 and will not be permitted to vote until an affidavit has been made asserting that the affiant believes in the principles of the democratic party.

This momentous decision, which has been the effect of raising some of the bars which were lowered by the committee last January, was reached by the state democratic executive committee last January, was reached by the state democratic executive committee at the special meeting Friday afternoon. It came after some members of the committee had expressed the opinion that the raising of the bars would not be for the best interests of the party at this time due to the many who strayed away in the general election of 1920. However, a majority reached the conclusion that it would be better to keep the doubtful ones out of the primary than to permit them to aid in the nomination of weak candidates who might be easily defeated in the general election.

Under the new rule any watcher or qualified voter may challenge the right of any person offering to vote on the ground that he or she is not a democrat. Any person so challenged will not be permitted to vote until "he makes oath that he believes in the principles of the democratic party, which oath may be administered by one of the inspectors."

Other important decisions reached by the committee provide that none but white persons may participate in the primary and that no refunds will be made to candidates who withdrew from the contest after the date for the closing of entries had expired.

The resolution regarding white voters supported a recent ruling of James H. Webb, chairman, who held that the resolution providing for the primary restricted the ballots to white democrats. The resolution follows:

"Should any other than a white person offer to vote in the democratic primary on August 8, 1922, the inspectors shall decline to give a ballot to such person or allow him or her to cast a ballot in such primary.
Should the inspectors fail or refuse to comply with this requirement and permit such votes to be cast it shall constitute a ground for contest and his committee gives warning that it shall see to it that no candidates shall profit because of the violation should such contest be instituted."

The resolution giving the chairman authority to refund entrance fees to all candidates who withdrew before the ballots were printed provoked great discussion but was withdrawn when it was seen it would be defeated. Edward D. Johnston, member of the committee for the eighth district, opposed it on the ground that it would not be right for persons to enter a campaign, knowing that their acts were "silly and foolish" and unproductive of results, and then to have their assessments returned to them after they had quit the race.

A. G. Paterson, another member for the eighth district, pointed out that the establishment of such a precedent might be used by candidates in the furtherance of their political interests. For instance, he said a candidate might persuade other persons to enter the race in opposition to himself, thus making it appear to the people that he would be opposed.

HERE IS THE FAMOUS $3,500,000 WAIF

Anna Louise Beers, three-year-old heiress to the $3,500,000 estate of Captain Edward Morrison, of Chicago, is in a charity ward in the Cook County (Ill.) Hospital. Police are endeavoring to find her mother, who is said to be touring the country, stopping at the best hotels and watering places, dressed in the finest gowns. The neglect of the mother is alleged to have extended over more than a year, and the Juvenile Court has fed, clothed and housed the child for fifteen months. She was snapped as she played with her battered, borrowed doll. "Her hair got any shoes either," said the child, sadly, "but her's got a mamma!"

Striking Shopmen Ready to Assist Officers In Preventing Violence

The following official communication was issued today by H. C. Hutchison, chairman of the press committee of the federated shop crafts:

The usual daily meeting of the local rail strikers was held at the Masonic Theater this morning. Following routine business, S. E. Roper addressed the assembly, and gave expression in the following language as his idea of the proper attitude of the strikers and the statement was unanimously adopted:

To the general public:
We the employees of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad at Albany, Ala., who are now on strike, do not approve of any lawlessness or violence, and are willing and ready at all times to assist the officials of the city, or county in any way reasonable in upholding the law.

A telegram was read from B. M.
Jewell summoning S. E. Roper to Chicago for Tuesday a. m., August 1st.

OFFICIALS BELIEVE SUBMARINES SAFE

(By International News Service.)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—Officials of the twelfth district today discountenanced reports that four submarines are missing off the Mexican coast. It was stated no such report had been received in official circles.

Advices from the sub base at Los Angeles were to the effect that no accident of any kind had occurred, it was stated. The submarines were said to have been part of a convoy of 12 enroute to Hampton Roads, Va., from Los Angeles, in charge of the U. S. Beaver.

The report that the four had been lost originated in a story told by a sea captain on his arrival in Los Angeles.

REVIVAL ANNOUNCED

The membership of the Bethel Baptist church situated one mile north of Hartselle, announce that a revival will begin there Sunday July 30th, and continue for one week. Rev. R.
F. Stuckey, pastor of the East Albany Baptist church will do the preaching. There will be two services each day, with dinner on the ground.

The following resolutions were passed by unanimous vote, upon the announcement of the death of General Foreman C. V. Dupont, early this morning:

WHEREAS, it has been reported to this body, that General Foreman C. V. Dupont breathed his last at near 7 o'clock this morning; and WHEREAS we believe that in the death of Mr. Dupont this community has lost a valuable and highly respected citizen and the church an active worker and many of us a good friend, therefore be it

RESOLVED that while we bow to the inevitable that we sincerely deplore the loss of Mr. Dupont; that we go on record as believing in his integrity and sincerity and that we desire to extend to his immediate family and his other loved ones our genuine and heartfelt sympathy.

Resolved finally that a copy of these resolutions be offered the Albany-Decatur Daily and that a copy be sent to Mrs. C. V. Dupont.

COAL PRODUCTION IMPROVES A LITTLE

(By International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, July 29.—There is no indication of increased coal production in response to President Harding's invitation to reopen mines in any of the strongly organized districts the geological survey announced today in its weekly coal report.

Productions this week will be about 3,900,000 tons, against 3,700,000 tons last week. The increase is due to (1) more men at work in Pennsylvania; (2) improved coal supply in Southern West Virginia and to (3) heavier shipments from Alabama and the far west.

Canada Unable To Get American Coal

(By International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, July 29.—Canada has been advised by the United States that she must look to other markets for coal during the American period of emergency if it was announced here today.
Normally Canada is a heavy buyer of American coal, but for her own comfort the Dominion government has been advised to rely upon foreign importers for their fuel.

NEW YORK, July 29.—The chamber of commerce of the state of New York has wired President Harding, requesting him that in negotiating a rail strike settlement, that he give full recognition to the loyal railroad employees "who during this assault on established government and life of the nation kept the trains moving."

CHICAGO, July 29.—Two striking Illinois Central shopmen were wounded this morning in a fight between 75 strikers and a squad of deputy United States marshals at the Burnside shops.

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, July 29.—While officers of the mine unions insisted that plans for a conference between the operators and miners to end the soft coal strike were progressing, federal and state officials continued preparations for distribution of coal under government supervision.

Striking Shopmen Handed Pay Checks

The regular semi-monthly pay day of the Louisville and Nashville workmen who are on strike took place today, the men being paid off at the Louisville and Nashville freight depot on Lee street. The pay day, though quite small as compared with others, represents the last few hours the men worked on July 1, before laying down their working tools. For some time the men could be seen going in a steady stream down Second avenue.
The finest of order prevailed and the men were in the best frame of mind.

Senate Approves Woolen Schedule

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, July 29.—By the vote of 26 to 24 the Senate approved the committee amendment imposing duties on all woolen goods for men's clothing. Seven Republicans voted against the amendment while three Democrats cast their lots as supporting it.

Back of Project Lies Under-

Be Good"

(By International News Service.)

NEW YORK, July 29.—L. F. Loree, chairman of the Eastern Association of Railway Executives today telegraphed senators of New York, Pennsylvania and Vermont, a declaration that President Harding has "made no effort to inform himself as to the position of more than 175,000 shopmen now on the railway payrolls whose interests are at stake."

Involving as it does tacit opposition to the President's peace move, at a time when the deliberations are in a delicate state, the telegram created a sensation in railway circles here.

Loree's telegram to Senator Wadsworth, of New York, said: "I spent the morning in Washington on business of the Delaware and Hudson company and am amazed at information floating about regarding the attitude of the administration in the railway strike."

There followed the quotation given above Loree added: "More than 150,000 are in New York state and will naturally look to you to see that their interests are safeguarded. If I can be of any service to you in this connection, I can be reached at my New York office."

The telegrams were dispatched from Washington.

Yesterday, in the absence of Mr.
Loree, his office in New York stressed the fact that on the eve of Tuesday's meeting of the 48 railway executives here to hear the President's peace proposals, no declaration of railway policy could be made.

Loree's declaration, in his message to Eastern senators, was made public today simultaneously with forecasts by railway men that not more than one or two of the great Eastern railway systems would agree to any alteration of their ruling that strikers have lost their seniority rights.

No single executive, who could be reached today, would make an official avowal on this, the crucial point at issue in all of the strike settlement efforts. In railroad circles, however, there was a rapidly growing belief that peace was not in sight.

It was declared here that Eastern executives will not follow the example of Whiteford R. Cole, president of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St.
Louis railroad, who openly and officially declared today he will not restore strikers' seniority rights. The position officially adopted is declarations in advance of the meeting on Monday of the Eastern Association of Railway Executives and in advance of learning the Harding formula would constitute discourtesy to the President.

Railway officials do not disguise the importance of the Cole announcement, nor attempt to hide the fact that it expresses the Eastern executive's position. Cole, they point out, is chairman of the Southeastern Association of Executives and as such a leader for vast territories.

It is possible, International News Service was informed, that an official statement of the position of the Eastern roads will be issued at the conclusion of Monday's meeting.

C. V. DUPONT DIES AT HIS HOME HERE EARLY SATURDAY

C. V. Dupont, for many years general foreman of the Louisville and Nashville shops here, died at 7:10 o'clock this morning at his home on Jackson street. Announcement of his death caused profound sorrow throughout the Twin Cities. Mr. Dupont having enjoyed widespread popularity in all sections of Albany and Decatur.

Mr. Dupont had not been well for some time, but this morning early seemed to be somewhat improved. He was forced to lay aside his duties at the shops recently, as he and his friends thought only for a short time.

As an evidence of the universal respect and in many cases affection in which Mr. Dupont was held by the shopmen with whom he came in contact daily, the large body of railroad workers, assembled in the Masonic several days ago, paid tribute to him and went on record as greatly concerned for his recovery.

The outstanding characteristic of Mr. Dupont, according to those who knew him best, was his straight forwardness. He never stooped to little things. He was an active member of the Westminster Presbyterian church, being a ruling elder in that congregation. He was an active member also of a number of fraternal orders, including the Masonic fraternity, being a Mason of high degree.

In addition to his wife, the deces-ed is survived by two daughters, Mrs.
Margaret Phelan of Chicago and Miss Sabine Dupont, of Albany; one son, B. E. Dupont, of Evansville, Ind.
Mr. Dupont was 72 years of age.

Mr. Dupont was born March 24, 1850, in St. Augustine, Fla., and was married 49 years ago in Bowling Green, Ky. He has been in the service of the Louisville and Nashville 50 years, coming to Albany with the road's shops in 1892.

Funeral services will be held at the Westminster Presbyterian church, Monday afternoon, at 4:30 o'clock Rev. L. F. Goodwin conducting the services. Interment will be made at city cemetery.

Watch Your Step! This Worlds Plenty Hot Enough Now

Twin City residents arose today with the realization that there was to be another display of the ability of Old Sol to crumple collars and cause the fans to buzz with increasing buzziness. But for the fact that a little breeze was to be felt from time to time, Saturday would have shored up another record. There is some satisfaction that August is just around the corner, and the nights in August usually begin to get cool, at least to an extent to allow sweltering humanity a chance to recuperate for the next day.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE IS CONFIDENT PLAN TO BE GIVEN APPROVAL OF MEN AND ROADS

L. F. Loree Declares President Has Not Informed Himself
On Situation

TELEGRAMS CREATED A SENSATION IN GOTHAN

Executive Asks Help of the Senators From Trio of States

(By International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, July 29.—President Harding today began the actual drafting of a peace program which, he has every confidence, will be accepted by both railway executives and strikers and will result in the national tie up ending not later than next Wednesday.

From a high official source it was learned the President's program virtually is as follows:

1. Strikers will return to work on all roads at the reduced wage scale recently decreed by the railway labor board, pending a rehearing of the case.

2. Strikers will return with their seniority rights unimpaired by the walkout, except that those union men who remained on the job shall retain the seniority to which they are legitimately entitled. Seniority for strike breakers will be determined by their length of service.

3. Demand for a national adjustment board to be left over for future discussion.

4. Working rules modified by the railway labor board, such as time and a half for overtime to be made the subject of an early hearing by the labor board.

5. Settlement to be based upon a national agreement and not by individual or regional agreements.

Back of the whole program lies the understanding, clearly made in the series of white house conferences this week, that when the strike is over both sides, hereafter, will live up to the decisions of the labor board.
It is the firm conviction of President Harding and his advisers is that 90 per cent of the present trouble that both sides have disregarded the board's decisions and the settlement proposed by the President is predicated on the understanding that hereafter both sides will "be good."

President Harding, himself, has described the program as one of compromise. It is known, however, that the railway strike leaders are highly pleased with the terms, as outlined.

They make concessions in the matter of wages, but by exacting a program which calls for future observance by the railroads of the letter and law of the board's decision, such as farming out repair work they feel they have won a notable victory.

CHICAGO HOPEFUL

(By International News Service.)
CHICAGO, July 29.—Developments arising from the conferences at Washington, between President Harding and leaders of the striking railway shopmen, gave rise here today as the walkout entered its fifth week, to the belief that the coming week will see the strike definitely terminated or conditions created that will prolong it indefinitely.

The belief prevailed in usually well informed circles that the conference of the 90 general chairmen of the shop crafts unions to be held here Tuesday will result in tentative acceptance by the unions of the plan of settlement reported to have been prepared by President Harding.

Although details of the President's plan are unknown here, the calling of the conference was taken as an indication that the plan had met with the approval of B. M. Jewell, leader of the strikers and members of his executive committee, who have been confering with the President.

Settlement of the strike was believed in labor circles here to hang on the attitude of the railway executives.
If the latter accept President Harding's plan, the strike will end.

Within the realm of opportunity there is housed the elements which properly used or abused, mean much in the life of every individual. Opportunity; what a wealth of meaning goes with it. To the young, opportunity is a thing without meaning, and not until too late, is there a proper understanding of the vastness of it, and of how much importance that they grasp every minute of it, while young minds are inquiring the way, as they rung by rung mount up the ladder which leads them to the summit of a career of usefulness. Handicapped indeed is the young man or woman who is compelled to go through life without the opportunity to attain the learning which is offered them in the educational institutions of the land. If this be true, and no one will doubt it, the opportunity of getting an education, preparatory for the life's work, is one of the greatest opportunities which comes to one, and is fraught with the greatest blessings if properly used. Many young lives have been wrecked, as poorly equipped they launched out into the business of a lifetime, without the very necessary helpful aids of an education as a partner.

Whenever a young man or woman leaves the educational highway before successfully mastering it, and departs along the devious ways of a business career, dependent upon the hard road of experience to be their teacher, that point in their life is where they in future life go back and erect a monument of sorrow, because of their short sightedness. If they could see this in time before the fatal step was taken, much unpleasantness, and severe handicaps all through life might be avoided. But, too late.

COMMISSIONER HAYNES REPORTSON JURY ATTITUDE TOWARD PROHIBITION.

United States Commissioner Haynes' report as to the development of sentiment for the strict enforcement of the 18 amendment for June, gives brief statements from federal prohibition enforcement officers from a large number of the 48 states. Based on these reports Mr. Haynes has concluded that the people are sick and tired of John Barleycorn and all his works. Mr. Haynes says:

"That public sentiment throughout the country is growing stronger day by day in favor of rigid enforcement of the eighteenth amendment is reflected by the improved attitude of juries, as shown by the reports of prohibition directors, from extracts are appended." "Federal juries are almost uniformly impartial and tender convictions in keeping with the evidence, and in only rare instances are county and municipal juries influenced by adverse sentiment. On the whole, the June reports as to the attitude of juries are the most encouraging yet received."

The reports from the several states with Alabama leading are as follows:

"Alabama—"There is nothing to distinguish the attitude of the juries as different from their attitude in any other law violation, and the situation continues to grow more favorable each month."

"Alaska—"Not sufficient trials upon which to predicate any opinion as to change in the attitude of juries."

"Arizona—"Conviction in every case submitted, except one, in which the jury disagreed."

"Arkansas—"Attitude of grand jurors and petit jurors, both in federal and state courts, favorable to enforcement of the liquor laws."

"Connecticut—"Juries have always given us the best support and are still continuing to do so."

"Delaware—"Juries fair and impartial."

"Florida—"I feel very well satisfied with convictions made at the term of court."

"Georgia—"Attitude of federal courts favorable; are realizing that the most effective way in enforcing prohibition is by the imposition of chain-gang sentences."

"Hawaii—"No jury trials; defendants plead guilty before magistrate."

"Iowa—"Juries are bringing in convictions, and if ever it appeared there was a tendency to stamp out the illicit sale of liquor, such conditions exist at present."

"Kansas—"Federal and state courts are rendering valuable assistance and co-operation in every way."

"Kentucky—"Juries generally show disposition to convict."

"Louisiana—"Improved attitude on the part of juries throughout the state."

"Maine—"Juries very favorable in both state and federal courts."

"Maryland—"Only jury trial since last report resulted in verdict of not guilty."

"Massachusetts—"No complaint to make of the attitude of juries."

"Michigan—"Attitude of federal juries has been uniformly favorable, and there has been a strong willingness to uphold the national prohibition act."

"Mississippi—"Am pleased to inform that we have not lost a single case before a jury during the past five months."

"Nevada—"Juries continue to do good work."

"New York—"In the northern district convictions have been 100 per cent; western district, over 80 per cent; southern and eastern districts, over 70 per cent. Attitude of juries more favorable, reflecting determined public sentiment for stricter enforcement."

"North Dakota—"Have no complaint to make on juries."

"Ohio—"Attitude of juries in both federal and state courts good."

"Oklahoma—"As a rule the juries are very favorable."

"Oregon—"Juries are displaying favorable attitude toward strict enforcement."

"Pennsylvania—"Attitude of juries very gratifying."

"South Carolina—"Juries in federal and state courts improving month by month."

"Tennessee—"Juries very favorable."

"Texas—"Continued improvement as to federal and state juries."

"Utah—"No change in willingness of juries to convict in prohibition cases."

"Vermont—"But one instance where the federal jury failed to convict; juries in the state and municipal courts sometimes fail to convict, probably due to local prejudice."

"Virginia—"Attitude of juries on the whole very satisfactory."

"Wyoming—"Convictions have resulted in practically every case."

Summer is waning and soon we will be again at the threshold of another active busy season, when all lines of industry will receive and impetus due to the products of the farm being put in a marketable condition and ready for consumption. Cotton, the great commodity of the Southland, at this time promises a good return for labor expended, and the price is attractive. All will go well provided the boll weevil can be held in check through the month of August. July is doing its part nobly by putting on much fruit on the plant. If August can protect it to a point that will guarantee sufficient bolls to mature, then the crop can be said to be certain. The outcome of the next 30 days is a critical one, and much of the big business hoped for in the fall, depends.

A TRAIN OF THOUGHTS FOR SABBATH AND OTHER DAYS

By J. E. Blair

"And the nights shall be full of music, and the cares that infest the day, shall fold their tents as the Arabs, and as silently steal away." The ancient poetical expression has not generally been taken as a prophecy—but time has proven that it was prophecy and that also its words have come true. We used to think the poet meant there should be musical nights in some far away fairy land, but now we know that the nights are becoming full of music everywhere. With the Kansas may hear the music of the great church organs in New York city, and the golden voices of our best singers can make a universal proof of the saying "music hath charms to sooth the savage breast."

The value for good of this new ability of men ability of men and women to speak to each other at long distance can scarcely be overestimated. It means the coming in of the kingdom of thought, which when it has fully come will mean the sea triumph of righteousness "as the waters the sea". It is true that attempts will be made to turn to wrong uses, this new ability of people to speak from country to country, and from continent to continent. But attempts will fail. In the very nature of things, ideas sent by radio must be heard by all; but evil thoughts perish when made public—such can thrive only in some dark unfathomed cave of ignorance. In other words, when that "which is whispered in the air, is proclaimed from the house-top the final knell of evil has been sounded. Just as that long distance destructive agency called the "Big Bertha" of the Germans, shot 75 miles into Paris and killed and separated men, just so surely will our new guns of thought that will soon shoot around the world, unite and give new hope to the children of men.

This new ability to transmit thought can mean nothing less than that the power of thought is to rule "earth, air and sky, and the imperial sun." We feel that there is something uncanny in the idea that different lengths of air waves, are constantly wafting all kinds of messages through the ether above, but such is no stranger than was the telegraph in its day, or the telephone in its day. There was a time when the great waters lay all undiscovered and unused; but when our adventure some fore fathers heard the call "launch out into the deep", they made ready and went "down to the sea in ships". There was a time when the great rivers were looked upon as evil spirits; but now we make the rivers our great burden bearers—barring of course, the Tennessee and its mighty strength at Muscle Shoals. Each succeeding generation will put new burden upon this sea of air above us. It is just as much material and useable as the soil at our feet. And whereas the air once separated mankind, now it is to be used as a means of bringing all peoples into closer touch. International misunderstandings, that once led to war, will become impossible when thought conquerors the kingdom of the air.

Finally, and most important of all this new commerce of thought will bring the people of the world into one big neighborhood of thought. And there will be assembled the ideas of the "best minds" just as food for the body is gathered together at the market.

It is poverty of thought that kills personality, just as absence of food will kill our mortal bodies. The new means of distributing ideas will prevent that most dangerous of all conditions on this or any other world—"an empty head". Any who accept the truism that "an idle brain is the devil's workshop" can appreciate that last observation. All the elements were once regarded as hostile to mankind but rightly understood and used, all the elements can be made the willing servants of man's inalienable will.

Voice of People

An interesting letter depicting the features of the trip from Hartselle to Auburn by the members of the Boy's Club of Morgan county, in charge of Howard L. Burleson, secretary of the Morgan county farm bureau has been received by The Daily, and we herewith give it publication in the hope that it may be of interest to many of our readers who are interested in the things which are being done at Auburn. The letter follows:

We left Hartselle at 8 o'clock Sunday morning. Spent the night in camp near Calera, and made Montgomery the following day at 11 o'clock. At both Birmingham and Montgomery time enough was spent to show the boys over these two splendid cities. 4 p. m. Monday found the party at Auburn. The trip was made in an international speed truck driven by Gail Dalrymple of your city. He is very considerate of the boys and is a good sport. A placard on our truck read as follows: Morgan County Club Boys—Morgan County Farm Bureau Members—Auburn or Bust. This sign attracted much attention and caused many former Morgan countians, both men and women to hunt us up and do something for us. Anything to show they are still for old Morgan. Our boys have made a record in athletics from the start, and have been specially complimented for their good behavior. They will be scored later on stock judging and other contests. There are about 500 club boys and girls here, and 483 farmers have registered up to last night. County agent W. G. Johnson did not come with us on account of sickness at home, but if he comes during the week I will not make the return trip with the boys, as I will have to be in Montgomery Friday and Saturday at the Alabama Farm Bureau meeting, and should arrive home some time Sunday afternoon. The following is a list of the club boys in our party. Cecil Crawford, Howard Allen, Clifford Winsett, Truman Shaneyfelt, Weyman McCutcheon, Ervin Lackey, Willie Bussey, Cleo Sharpe, Paul Hodges, Hobart Winton, Elliott Howell and Karl Hough. Farm Bureau members: Randolph Ryan, Gail Dalrymple and H. L. Burleson.

Attention R. T. Sheppard, Dear Sir:

Yours of the 24th, at hand and I wish to thank you from the depths of my heart for the contribution that you have made in helping me along with my undertaking which all alone it has been a most strenuous one. I could not make out the name on the separate slip but whoever may have been the donor, I wish to thank him very much and also everyone that assisted in making up the fund, as you admit it is a small sum but to me it is the same as a very large one for my experiences since my arrival here has been an awful test for me for just imagine being in the nation's capital without a cent, so you may rest assured that your contribution was most gladly received and I shall never forget either your town or your paper and when I get a good story I will send it in with pleasure.

I am just beginning to get them stirred up here in Washington and after I have left my now over 112,000 petition here I will continue on my way and when Congress comes back into session I will have probably that many more before them. The main reason that I have had to call on you kind gentlemen is that a person is not allowed to sell anything on the streets here without you are renting a building so I was handicapped here as to working my idea of self support.

Trusting that this finds your paper and your city enjoying a period of success and that I may again have the pleasure of paying you a visit, I beg to remain,

Yours most truly,
ROY DARDEN,
Ford Booster Car, Washington, D. C.

P. S.—Along with your contribution I have also received one for a similar amount from Senator Heflin of Alabama.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends for their many deeds of kindness during the illness and death of our mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Jane Baldwin.

What One Exercise May Do In Beautifying Your Figure

By LUCREZIA BORI
The Famous Spanish Prima Donna

In the pursuit of beauty, the greatest drawback to the woman who would possess a lithe, slender figure is the fact that too often women's occupations keep them indoors and require much time to be spent in either sitting or standing.

Such occupations, which take away from the active hours which you might otherwise spend in more healthful pursuits, should be counterbalanced by indoor exercises which you prescribe for yourself.

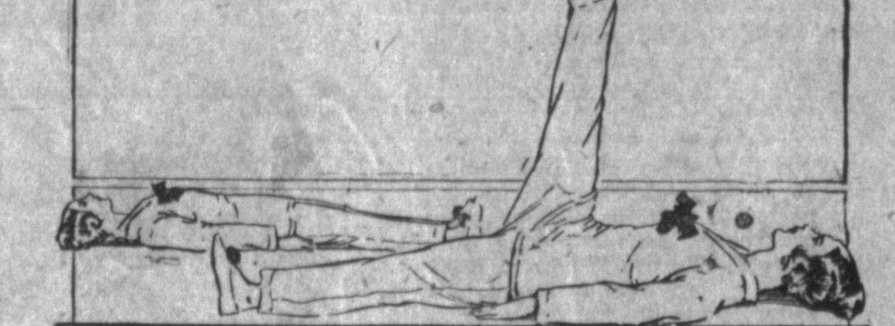

Such exercises may pall upon you if you do not introduce variety, for variety in exercises is as necessary as variety in any other activity. You can keep yourself interested and keen in the pursuit of beauty if you will take care to make the pursuit as attractive as possible.

The real aim of any indoor exercise is to give the greatest amount of development with the least amount of physical fatigue.

What you should do, then, is to introduce into your daily life a few simple exercises which will preserve your freshness and interest in it and never to repeat any exercise until you become physically tired. If you are a beginner at indoor exercise you are likely to be a bit stiff and tense at first, and to tire more easily than you will later on. Don't overdo at first, and make yourself realize during the performance that you are doing it because you want to, and because you enjoy it.

Here is a simple exercise which uses important muscles in your abdomen, and is doubly valuable because it exercises them in both the upward and downward movements.

Lie on the floor, flat on your back, with your legs stretched straight down. Raise your left leg as high as you can, include in your list of available exercises a number of desirable ones, so that you can change them often. When you read of a new one, or hear of one from some friend who is using one that she likes, make a note of it and save it to add to your list of effective exercises from which you can choose at will.

Do This at First Six Times with Each Leg.

Of course, you should remember that just because Mary can do such-and-such an exercise eight times with ease keeping it perfectly straight and not bending your knee at all. When you have it up in this position, force it up a little straighter for a second to give your muscles an additional stretching. This is particularly good for the muscles behind your knee.

Immediately after this slight stretching movement, lower your leg quickly and lightly to position. Do this about six times with each leg.

Administrators of Fuel Supply On Job

(Montgomery Bureau Albany-Decatur Daily.)
MONTGOMERY, Ala., July 29.—With the announcement of the public service commission Friday afternoon that it had issued emergency service orders which will give food supplies and coal priority over other shipments, Governor Kilby announced that the state fuel administration had been called into service again, that Roy R. Cox, chief clerk of the state board of control and economy, had been named state fuel administrator and that the fuel administration would keep tab on the prices of coal and on the distribution of coal mined in Alabama. The public service commission's emergency orders were in line with those of the interstate commerce commission. One provides that coal, food supplies and other necessities shall take priority over other shipments which are not essential. Another gives a railroad the right to route coal by the most direct route to destination regardless of routing instructions of the shipper. In disregarding shipping instructions a railroad cannot charge the shipper a greater amount of freight than would have been collected by the other route.

The Winner.

A slot machine with the mysterious unknown contents of a grab bag would get the most nickels.

"HANDCUFFS AND KISSES"

A delightfully human story, replete with action and incident, was shown at the Princess theater, where Elaine Hammerstein, in her newest Selznick Picture, "Handcuffs and Kisses," will be the featured attraction at the Princess today.

The role of Lois Walton as portrayed by Miss Hammerstein demands a skillful interpretation of many dramatic moods. The story carries an interesting romance through numerous dramatic complications and the action is intense and exciting at all times.

George Archambault, who has directed Miss Hammerstein in all her more recent successes, supervised production of "Handcuffs and Kisses." He was fortunate in having in the supporting company Robert Ellis,

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

NEW YORK, July 29.—I don't believe it has ever occurred to the thriftiest of housewives to save her broken china for the value of the little line of gold that decorates it. Yet that is done regularly by our largest and most extravagant appearing hotels in New York City. These gorgeous palaces of luxury, in which one would expect to find complete disregard to anything so small as a few dollars in waste, are probably the thriftiest institutions in the country. Their restaurants retrieve everything possible, from gold leaf on broken china to tin cans. Three barrels is the daily average of broken glass and china from any one of the large hotels of the city, so any possible salvage does amount to something by the end of the month. As for the tin cans—somebody discovered that a mixture of salt, soda, water and tin forms a fine silver cleaner, and now the cans are used for an almost costless silver wash. In every department, this same scientific saving is carried out, and if the most economical home wants to take lessons in greater economy, these great "extravagant" hotels are the schools to attend.

The advance of the co-operative idea in property owning is raising interesting questions of management, much as do any new experiments in democracy. Some of the apartment house projects started a few years ago found it difficult to get anything done. So many people had the right to authority that no one had the authority itself. Then agents got control of them and the share-owners found that they were in about the same position they had been under the rental system. It has finally been worked out, however, and the co-operative system is taking over more and more of our buildings, as a result. Apartment houses are being built in which each family owns forever or for 99 years under a lease plan. The old brownstone houses as numerous in our older residential sections are being taken over and owned outright by a partnership of three or four families, each family occupying a floor. The Commonwealth Hotel, first hotel experiment of the kind, has solved its management problems by the forming of "chapters" of the share-holders. Each chapter selects a delegate who acts as representative on the governing board of the hotel—much as we select delegates to represent us in the legislature. There are several thousands of owners in this 2,500 room hotel, and such a delegate plan was, of course, necessary.

There are more than 25,000 summer students in New York this year, plugging away at classes in Columbia, Hunter College, New York University and the other colleges of the city. Our silly season population is not composed entirely of frivolity, after all.

"Motion Picture Sam," of the Bowery, doesn't believe in trying to kill the traditional goose and lose the golden eggs of the future. A sign on his motion picture house announces that the playhouse is closed for the season but will reopen in the fall with all the latest releases. "This house is closed," explains the sign, with "Motion Picture Sam, Prop." as signature, "because I need a rest and in order to give my patrons a chance to accumulate more money so that they may come here more often when we open again."

New York has another titled daughter. Miss Katherine T. Wendell, daughter of the late Jacob Wendell, Jr., of Manhattan, was married the other day to Lord Portchester in St. Margaret's church, Westminster. The family have lived abroad a great part of the time since the death of the father in 1911, but have returned frequently to visit, and have maintained close connection with their circle here.

One of the early importations of the theatrical season will be "Hunky Dory," one of the successors of last year in London, which will be transplanted to the Klaw Theater early in September. "Hunky Dory" is a Scotch play by a Scotch author with a Scotch cast. Mr. McDonald Watson, the young author of the comedy, plays the leading role.

There used to be an argument that women ought not to vote because they could not use force to enforce the law which they would help to make. Miss Ethel Cummings shattered any such idea in ten crowded minutes. Miss Cummings, who is a store detective here, saw a man gathering wallets from a counter in a store. He stood 6 feet 2 and weighed 185 pounds; but Miss Cummings forthwith arrested him and started out to a policeman with him in tow. Suddenly he turned and struck her in a bolt for freedom. Three minutes later, he was lying on the sidewalk with Miss Cummings sitting on him while she waited for the police. He didn't get up until they arrived and took charge of him, either.

Hartselle News

Frank Hammond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hammond, was successfully operated on for appendicitis at Benevolent hospital, and is getting on nicely.

A. Polytskey and son, Eugene, have established an office in Decatur, and will buy cotton there the coming fall. They will have a large warehouse, and will carry on a general cotton business. Mr. Polytskey has been one of the largest cotton buyers at this point for several years, and has many interests here.

Rev. Clare Purcell former pastor of the First Methodist church at this place, but now of Talladega, surprised his many friends here this week by making them a visit. He originally intended only to spend a while between trains, but this would not be heard to by his friends, and he accordingly spent the night. Rev. Purcell was very popular here as pastor and citizen.

The three ginning establishments here are making ready to handle the cotton crop which will soon be on the market. Improvements are being made, and better facilities for handling cotton are being installed.

Hartselle has been besieged this week by county candidates. This seems to be the central or assembling point at which to gather and make the different points where speaking is being held. They are a genial bunch of men, and rival candidates make the trip in same car, fulfilling the scripture, "the lion and the lamb shall lie down together."

The First National Bank is having installed some handsome road signs at different points along the highways in this section. The advertising feature is a large wind mill, mounted on suitable pole with appropriate lettering.

Another car load of equipment has arrived for the troop of cavalry, consisting of clothing, guns and side arms. The boys are having daily drills with about 50 men in line, preparatory to the annual encampment.

The Hartselle base ball team is at Elkton, Tenn., for two games this week. Friday they defeated the Tennessee team, 14-2. Next Monday, the team will be at home for three games with the Cullman sluggers. In a series played at Cullman the three first days of this week, the series went to Cullman by a score of 3-4. This loss is hoped to be retrieved in the coming games, and the stage is being set for some regular ball of the hard fought variety.

Contributions continued to come in to the fund being raised for Evangelist Guice who conducted a two weeks meeting here, even after he had left for his home. The stewards had a meeting one day this week, and it was found that there was something over $50.00 on hand for this fund, in addition to the $500.00 given him before he left a check was forwarded to Mr. Guice at Natchez, Miss., where he is enjoying a few days rest. It is understood that he will begin a meeting at Athens soon.

All crops continue to greatly improve in this section, and much hope is held out for a bounteous harvest. Cotton is well toward maturity and is putting on fruit fast. Corn is very promising indeed, and it is now thought there will be enough of the staff of life to bread the country will be made. Much hay has been saved, and a splendid spirit of hopefulness prevails.

Considerable cotton of that which was carried over from last year's crop is being marketed here each

KING OF THE EAST ROOMS OVER PARIS

PARIS, July 29.—Dressed in a business suit of sober black, a quiet, unobtrusive, little yellow-skinned man has been a constant visitor recently to the museums of art, painting and sculpture in the French capital.

Few people recognized Khai Dinh, Far East Potentate, Emperor of Annam, Indo-China, who adorned in flowing robes of silk, his hair decorated with gold lace, the Red and Yellow Order of the Dragon of Annam on his breast almost hidden by a large plaque of pure gold set with huge diamonds, was seen in the Presidential box at Longchamp on the day of the Grand Prix.

A few years ago no one in his capital of Hue was permitted to stand erect before the Emperor or look him squarely in the eye, yet in the museums tourists pushed him about and elbowed him out of the way when he stood too long before a work of art.

One of the first questions Khai Dinh asked after he had been installed in the Ministry of Colonies, his home while in Paris, was: "Where is there a first-class tailor in town?" A representative of a leading Parisian tailoring firm called, but Emperor found his clothes too gaudy and requested him to return with blue, brown and black samples. The Emperor ordered six suits of the more sober patterns. His official robes show practically all the colors of the rainbow.

A great lover of Art, Khai Dinh has had the entire row of Palaces used as the residence of royalty in Hue practically remodeled, both inside and outside, since his accession to the throne in 1916. His visits to the monuments of Paris have been made especially for the purpose of finding a plan for the reconstruction of the tomb of his ancestor Dong Khanh, the founder of the dynasty, 20 centuries ago.

A strict follower of the doctrine of Confucius, Khai Dinh's respect for the memory of his ancestors amounts to religion, and the mausoleum which he intends erecting to Dong Khanh will be one of the purest examples of far-east architecture known. Alexandre Marcel, official architect of the French government, is collaborating in the drawing up of the plan and the Emperor has made several calls upon the architect, suggesting modifications and ideas.

Hotchkiss Offers For Congressman

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily.)
MONTGOMERY, Ala., July 29.—W. E. Hotchkiss, attorney of Courtland, is a candidate for congressman for the eighth district, but he will run in the Republican convention and not in the Democratic primary. Announcement of his candidacy was received by the secretary of state today.

Republicans will meet in convention September 7 for the purpose of making nominations for the various state and district offices which will be filled in the general election in November. If Mr. Hotchkiss is given the Republican nomination he will oppose either Congressman E. B. Almon or Mrs. Leila Senton Edmundson, candidates for the Democratic nomination in the primary August 8.

Troops Paroled By Governor's Orders

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily.)
MONTGOMERY, Ala., July 29.—In order that the men called into military service in the Birmingham district during the week may not lose any more time than is necessary from their civil duties, Governor Kilby issued an order today for the issuing of furloughs subject to call to all except about 20 members of the Alabama National Guard who were mobilized in Birmingham Tuesday night.

Judge James E. Horton, Jr., OF ATHENS, ALABAMA Candidate For Judge of the Circuit Court Eighth Judicial Circuit

INVITES A CAREFUL INQUIRY INTO HIS PRIVATE LIFE AND HABITS; IS UNQUALIFIEDLY SUPPORTED BY HIS HOMEPEOPLE; HIS RECORD ON THE BENCH SHOWS HIS ABILITY AS A JUDGE.
HIS HOME BAR, SOLIDLY AND WITHOUT SOLICITATION, HAS CAUSED TO BE SENT TO THE VOTERS THE FOLLOWING LETTER.

Athens, Ala.,

July 10, 1922.

To the Democrat addressed:

We respectfully call your attention to the enclosed circular descriptive of Judge James E. Horton, Jr. who is a candidate for one of the judges of the Eighth Judicial Circuit of Alabama. As members of the legal profession we feel that we possess some ability to judge the fitness of a man to make a competent trial judge. We have known Judge Horton as a man, as a lawyer, and as a judge, and we feel safe in saying that in all of these he measures up to that full standard required to meet the exacting and honorable duties of Circuit Judge.

Your special attention is called to the fact that Judge Horton has served as Chancellor of the Northern Division of Alabama, and while in that position distinguished himself as one of the big judges of Alabama by making the record of having his opinions affirmed by the Supreme Court of Alabama in 75 per cent of all cases appealed from his court. Such a record is made by few men and is one of which he and his friends are justly proud. He is a man of fine attainments, a clear and clear thinker, and if elected will make a judge who will reflect much credit and honor to his native state.

May we not ask that you join with us in helping to elect Judge Horton one of the judges of the Circuit Court (two to be elected) and thereby elevate to the judicial bench a clear-cut, straight thinking, staid, Christian gentleman.

Thanking you for your cooperation, we are respectfully yours,

Fred Wall.

"THE LITTLE PEOPLE"

By Juanita Hamel

THE stillness of the country—like the silence of the sea—is quiet only by contrast with the city's rattle and roar. Where men work noise is heard, where Nature works there is the silence of immeasurable power. And yet—if you listen carefully—you can hear innumerable sounds, each distinct, each a separate entity. Some there are who will tell you that these are the voices of "the little people"—working their magic in tree and flower, in grass and bud, even in the heart of her who dreams with love asleep by her side.

Gold Headed Cane Ready For Owner

Some one is minus a gold headed cane which no doubt is highly prized. Recently a gold headed cane was found by O. S. Thomas bearing the following inscription: "1st Lieut. J. B. Shelton. From a true friend of U. T. June 5th 1889." It is desirous of getting the cane in question into the hands of the owner. Further information may be obtained by phoning 584-J Albany. Should any one who chances to read this item be in possession of any information which would help restore cane to the owner, they would no doubt be conferring a great favor upon them.

The Humble Clothespin. Every Monday morning thousands of pulley lines squeak and thousands of clothespins are jabbed into place. In spite of many new inventions, people the world over still use the primitive wooden clothespin designed years ago by a New Hampshire man. Twenty million feet of lumber are sold to be needed each year to supply the clothespin manufacturers in the United States.

Bars Are Raised By State Democracy and then have the candidates withdraw after the time limit for other candidates had expired.

Judge Mike Sollie of Ozark and George Bondurant of Birmingham also opposed the resolution, contending that when a person has gone into the race his money should remain in the treasury of the state committee for use in paying a portion of the expenses of the democratic party.

The committee adopted resolutions reimbursing the chairman for money he spent for stationery, postage and office help and providing for the payment of expenses of the sub-committees created for the purpose of arranging for the primary, for the state convention and for the campaign preceding the general election.

A sub-committee of three was provided for which will be charged with the duty of hearing a contest over the mayoralty of Hartford, Geneva county. J. H. Radford has appealed from the decision of the local executive committee holding Porter D. Commander to be the democratic nominee for mayor. Only legal questions are involved and both sides agreed to have the hearing before a sub-committee, the decision of the sub-committee being final.

Following the completion of the work of the committee, Harry T. Hartwell, member of the city commission, delivered a short address in the interest of the Alabama port amendment which will be submitted to the people in the general election.

Commissioner Hartwell urged all members of the state committee to carry the question to the voters of their congressional districts. "The people will vote for this amendment when they have been advised of its provisions," declared Mr. Hartwell. "It is a wonderful opportunity for the state to provide the means for a great seaport at Mobile, a seaport which can and will benefit the entire state."

"All states which have adopted the program which is proposed in Alabama have found it to be successful and operative without the expenditure of one penny of state funds. The amendment will carry no tax and the money for the retirement of the obligations for the improvement of the port will come from port charges

Chief Executive Is Confident Plan To Be Given Approval

ing's plan it is believed the strike may end on Wednesday or Thursday of next week. Jewell and the members of his executive board were expected to return here today and begin plans for Tuesday's meeting.

Telegrams, summoning the general chairmen to the conference, were sent out last night.

If the shopmen accept President Harding's plan, it is considered certain that the stationary firemen and oilers, who have joined in the strike, will take similar action.

That the attitude of the carriers toward restoration of seniority to the strikers may continue to prove the stumbling block in the path of settlement was indicated by the announcement here of a high railway official that western railroads will "stand pat" on their policy of protecting employees who remained at work and those who have entered the service since the strike began.

Strike leaders here pointed to the collapse of the move of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad to reach a separate agreement with its employees as an indication that the union ranks are solid and that the only settlement that will be accepted will be generally speaking, the fourth one that is national in scope.

Week of the strike has been comparatively free from disorders of a serious nature.

COLE REITERATES

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 29.—Whiteford R. Cole, president of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, today reiterated his determination not to restore seniority to shop crafts workmen now out on strike.

against ships which use the facilities. Seven or eight states have already adopted the plan and it has proved generally successful.

Commissioner Hartwell pointed out the success of the Louisiana port at New Orleans, which has created an investment of fifty million dollars by the expenditure of twenty-five million dollars, and which has paid all obligations, including interest charges, from revenue derived from the operation of the port and now has in the treasury two million dollars.

He declared three important questions are before the people of Alabama today—road construction, port improvement and Muscle Shoals. "These three things go hand in hand and when Alabama has completed its road construction program, has developed Muscle Shoals and has constructed a port it will have reached its highest point of development," he concluded.

Mrs. Daniel Pratt of Prattville, member of the committee for the fifth district, and Miss Carolyn Haralson of Montgomery, member of the committee for the second district, tendered their resignations at the meeting.

Members of the committee present at the special session follow: Chairman James H. Webb, Mobile; C. B. Brown, Montgomery; W. F. Miller, Tusculumbia; A. F. Fite, Jasper; J. C. Webb, Demopolis; Dr. R. A. Smith, Brewton; W. R. Sellers, Troy; Mrs. Maude Martin, Ozark; Judge Mike Sollie, Ozark; L. M. Moseley, Union Springs; L. H. Boykin, Pittsview; J. F. Averyt, Columbiana; J. H. To the Democratic Voters of the County

I am again a candidate for Judge of the Probate Court of this county, and ask you to vote for my nomination in the August primary.

During my terms in the office I discharged the duties of Probate Judge according to law, fearlessly, and without favor, to friend and foe alike.

The estates of deceased persons and the interests of the widows and orphans were carefully guarded.

Delinquent children were taken in hand, and sent to the schools provided by the state.

Confederate soldiers and their widows were given every consideration, and when large numbers were stricken from the rolls, they were restored by my personal efforts before the Pension Board in Montgomery.

As Recorder of Deeds, I saw that all conveyances were properly recorded and promptly returned.

As Principal Judge of the Court of County Commissioners, I saw that the indigent and insane were cared for, supervised the equalization of the taxes, and kept them in line with other counties in the state.

All claims against the county were carefully inspected, promptly paid, and the expenses kept within the income from taxes.

The roads and bridges of the county were kept in repair.

At my instance the people voted (Paid Political advertising by William E. Skeggs, Decatur, Ala.)
